wastatemta It's time to get excited for all of the concerts and recitals you will have access to at the 2022 Conference! On June 23rd we will celebrate the winners of various MTNA competitions along with the WSMTA Commissioned Composer of the year, Shlomo Farber. Our Conference Guest Artist, Inna Faliks, will present the live premieres of nine imaginative and rich new works for the piano, alongside masterpieces by Beethoven and Ravel on June 24th. On June 25th we will end the conference with Small Flames: Chamber Music for Rekindling the Spirit.

wastatemta Relax after our first full conference day at Musical Trivia Night, hosted by Peter Mack! Come and enjoy yourself while engaging in a little friendly competition with your colleagues. Impress us with your knowledge of musical trivia and we'll all get to know each other a little bit better (and find out who really knows what!). Come for the drinks and snacks and leave with a cool little prize!

IT'S ~~NOT~~ TOO LATE!
TO REGISTER

wastatemta It's not too late to register for the upcoming state conference! We have a lot of interesting social events planned, like Brain Date and Conference Pals, that focus on helping members easily meet others from across the state. There will be 3 amazing concerts, all of which are included in your full registration, as well as a wide array of presentations on various teaching topics. Come for 1 day of the conference, or all 3! We hope you'll join us on June 23-25 in Longview, WA.

wastatemta While at the conference this week, spend your lunch hour on Friday the 24th in a beautiful park that is only a 3 minute drive/9 minute walk from Lower Columbia College. We'll provide blankets to sit on while we picnic next to Lake Sacajawea Park Japanese Gardens. Choose a drink from the cooler and delight in a special visit from the Beat the Heat Ice Cream truck! We will meet at the Pavilion at 11:45am. See you there!
